

December 27, 2007

Pinch Sitter

Dedicated E-mail: Sittercity.com

Your kids have been especially precious lately, with their darling letters to Santa, cute caroling, and adorably incessant reminders of Christmas wishes.

All that sweet holiday time has left you wanting just one thing: a break.

Sittercity.com can help you take a break from your kids (and pets) so you can get reacquainted with your sanity. The ingenious site connects parents with caregivers in the area quicker than you can select a swanky restaurant and make dinner reservations — sans baby, of course.

With access to hundreds of thousands of babysitters, nannies, and pet sitters nationwide, parents are sure to find the perfect sitter for their little ones during the holidays and beyond. Sitter profiles include parent ratings and reviews, training and certifications, references, resumes, photos, availability, and background checks. Where was that kind of one-stop shopping when you crossed off your Christmas list?

In addition to making life easier, Sittercity.com also has the largest, most trusted online sitter database. It's quick, simple, and safe — music to any parent's ears. And don't forget affordable: DailyCandy readers get 10 percent off when entering code NEWYEAR.

You finally got your Christmas wish: a Mary Poppins of your own.

Find sweet relief online at sittercity.com.